Dept of Employment and Workplace Relations Website has moved

The entire Department of Employment and Workplace Relations website has recently been moved. Unfortunately this means that a number of the weblinks given in chapter 5 are no longer operational.

Specifically, p.66 and p.82 – where reference is given to a job safety check example involving the changing of a car tyre. This page is no longer accessible. Another example is given on the UWA website (this time for cleaning out gutters.) The link to that page is listed below.
